

1. [Article Corrections and Retractions]

Article means Article, Research Paper, Book Review, Case Comment, Blog. If there is suspicion of misbehavior or alleged fraud, the journals and/or Publisher will carry out an investigation following COPE guidelines. If, after an investigation, there are valid concerns, the authors concerned will be contacted under their given email address and given an opportunity to address the issue. Depending on the situation, this may result in the journal and/or Publisher's implementation of the following measures, including, but not limited to:

- If the manuscript is still under consideration, it may be rejected and returned to the author.
- If the article has already been published online, depending on the nature and severity of the infraction:
 - an erratum/correction may be placed with the article.
 - an editor's note or editorial expression of concern may be placed with the article.
 - or, in severe cases, retraction of the article may occur.

The reason will be given in the published erratum/correction, editor's note, editorial expression of concern, or retraction notice. Please note that retraction means that the article is maintained on the platform watermarked "retracted" and the explanation is provided in a note linked to the watermarked article.

- The author's institution may be informed.
- A notice of suspected transgression of ethical standards in the peer review system may be included as part of the author's and article's bibliographic record.

2. [Removal of Published Content]

In exceptional circumstances, Abhidhvaj Law Journal reserves the right to remove an article, chapter, book or other content from Abhidhvaj Law Journal's online platforms. Such action may be taken when (i) Abhidhvaj Law Journal has been advised that content is defamatory, infringes a third party's intellectual property right, right to privacy, or other legal right, or is otherwise unlawful; (ii) a court or government order has been issued, or is likely to be issued, requiring removal of such content; (iii) content, if acted upon, would pose an immediate and serious risk to health. Removal may be temporary or permanent. Bibliographic metadata (e.g.

title and authors) will be retained, and will be accompanied by a statement explaining why the content has been removed.
